Constantine Compelled to Abandon Headquarters at Pharsala.

GREEK ARMY RETIRES TO DOMOKOS.

General Smolenski Ferced by Advancing Tarks to Leave His Position at Veiestino-More Talk of Mediation

by the European Powers. Athens, May 7.- The Greek forces under Prince Constantine have abandoned Pharsala and fallen back upon Domokos, about 12 miles farther south-It appears that the great massing of Turkish troops and their movements led to a suspicion that an attempt was being projected to surround Pharsala. A council of war was held in the Greek camp, and it was decided to retire to Domokos, which was reached at dawn.

The Greeks promptly occupied strong positions on the mountain range overlooking Domokos.

During Wednesday night the Turks continued to execute movements with a view of outflanking Pharsala, and only discovered at daybreak Thursday morning that the Greek-army had re-

The retreat began at 2 o'clock in the morning, and the occupation of the new positions at Domokos was finished at 10. The Greeks buried their dead and conveyed 88 wounded, including five officers, to Lamia.

General Smolenski has retreated slowly and in orderly fashion to Almyro, and Volo has been almost completely evacuated.

General Smolenski wired to Athens for instructions, and the government advised him to retreat. He remained at Velestino all night and was attacked by the Turks at 6 the next morning. Hard fighting continued until late in the afternoon, when the firing ceased, and General Smoi-nski retired to Almyro, where he took up new positions. Powers Will End the War,

Austria and Germany have joined the other powers in proposing mediation between Greece and Turkey, Russia, England, France and Italy having previously begun negotiations through their ministers here looking to a cessation of hostilities.

A collective note will be handed to the Greek and Torkish governments within the next 12 hours, calling upon them to cease hostilities on the distinct assurance that the powers will undertake the final solution of pending difficulties.

Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett, whose chooner was detained fleet on the assumption that papers found on board of her, after his interview with the Turks, were of a compromising character, has arrived here. He was met at Piræus by M. Ralli, the premier, who conducted him to the British legation and requested Mr. Egerton, the British minister, not to allow him to leave the legation before quitting Athens in order to prevent a demonstration.

It has been decided to send Colonel Vassos to Theesaly, and Colonel Stratos, with a new general staff, will replace Colonel Manos in Epirus. Major Constantinides will be sent to Domo-

Two transport vessels have been sent to Volo to remove the few remaining inhabitants. The ainmunition stores and food supplies have already been taken to Stylis.

It is rumored that the few wounded Greek soldiers who were left at Pharsaia have been butchered by the Tuiks.

The Battle Before Pharsals. London, and 7 .- inc Dany head's correspondent with the Tulkish torces at Phaisaia, says.

'Wednesday's battle was most sublime as a spectacle and the most decisive of the entire war. It was not intended at the beginning that the night. should be a regular pitched ensagement, but on the arrival of Edhem Pasha at the outposts a furious himz be-

"The weather was cool and the sky somewhat cloudy after a thunderstorm. The village of Pharsaia could be seen huddled, as it were, under a line of low peaked hills. Higher and round about were black hills, rising behind the others, while between us and the village ran the small stream known to the ancients as the Raipeus, crossed by a bridge at the rallway station.

"Between the stream and the village were the Greeks, in an excellent position, well defended by earthworks. Their advance line consisted of two brigades and their reserve of two half brigades, altogether about 20,000 men.

As against these were 50,000 Turks. "The artillery began the engagement, the Greek parctice being much better than usual, but after about two hours they began to retire across the This was a great mistake, as they were thus inclosed between the river and the mountains, with no room

"The sight was superb. In many places the Greeks fought with the courage of despair. The great black masses, forming the rear guard to hold the bridge, covered the whole rich. green plain. And the endurance and dash of the Turks was magnificent too. I reached the battlefield with a regiment whose men immediately began to run forward, dancing under fire and shouting like children when they saw the enemy. The Greeks repulsed them vigorously and followed up the repulse. The Turks had formed in a semicircle of thundering batteries and crackling battalions. The division on the extreme left tried to cut off the retreat to Domokos, while the remainder of the force flung itself upon Pharsala. "The battle was but little like the battles described in books. There was no firing of volleys, no bayonet assault, fect order. There was some individual tiring, and the soldiers shouled 'Allah, Allah!' till the constant repetition swelled into one heavy, monotonous shout, like the 'Hear, hear!' of the face downward, but the Greek fire in the main was ineffective. "Before 5 o'clock the last village north of the river had been taken. Then the village of Vasili and the intrenchments near the river were stormed, with considerable loss to the Turks, and the battle ceased at nightfall, the flanking division having established itself be house of commons. I saw some men suddenly fling up their hands and fall hind the Greeks and cut off the best line of retreat to Athens.' A dispatch from Constantinople savs that Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander in chief in Thessaly, has sent the following dispatch to the ministry of war from Pharsala:

"The imperial army, while marching to Pharsala, met the enemy in the villages of Soubathi, Soulodji, Turcomanli and Lamia. After a severe engagement, lasting fifteen hours, we dislodged them from their positions and advanced to Pharsaia, which the imperial army has just victoriously occu-correspondent at Palias says: "The Greek battalion here attacked he Turks near Filippiada. The Greeks fought well, but their ammunition was soon expended, and they were compelled to retire. Officers and men in Epirus are bitterly displeased with the headquarters staff, and lately the soldiers have been plundering their compatriots. A very unsatisfactory condition of things exists."

Renewal of Triple Alliance.

Rome. May 7.—The pact of the powers constituting the triple alliance has been renewed for a period of six years. The right to withdraw, under the terms of the original agreement, expired on May 6, and Germany has succeeded in persuading Italy not to exercise the right of withdrawal.

The Powers to Occupy Athens. Berlin, May 7 .-- It is reported here that the powers have decided to land troops at Athens to protect the dynasty. Greece having declined the proffered mediation and Turkey being willing to negotiate on easy terms if Crete is evacuated by the Greeks.

CAPTURED IN VIENNA

Arrest of a Supposed Participant In the White Plains Tragedy.

New York, May 7 .- The police authorities of White Plains believe that a man they have long been looking for is now under arrest in Vienna. He is wanted on a charge of murder and burglary. The story from Vienna is that a certain George Hochmeister leased a hotel in that city a month or two ago and then decamped with a woman supposed to be his wife and left behind him some 40,000 guelden in debts. He was pursued, captured and brought back to Vienna, where he now

According to all descriptions furnished by the Austrian authorities. Hochmeister is supposed to be Peter James, who on the night of Aug. 19 last, in company with two other men, broke into the store of Walker Adams & Co. at Bedford Station, Westchester county. They were discovered, and a sanguinary encounter ensued, during which Mr. Adams was killed.

James Jenkins and one of his confederates were captured after they had been severely wounded. Jenkins soon died or his wounds. John Clare, the third burgiar, was accested, but he, too, died before his trial. On Oct. 27 last, James escaped from White Plains jail, and un'il now he has not been heard

I'm' I last August James kent two bievels stores one in Long Island City and the other in Reselver. It is now claimed by the notice that these stores were readquarters for a desperate gang of beggiars.

After the Amendments the Senate Passes Appropriations.

CLEVELAND'S ORDER IS NULLIFIED

of Forest Reservations Aggregating Seventeen Million Acres Agreed to-Reed Again Indorsed.

Washington, May 7 .- The senate has agreed to an amendment to the sundry civil bill revoking the proclamation of President Cleveland made on Feb. 22 last establishing forest reservations aggregating 17,000,000 acres in the far western states and territories. The debate brought out much criticism of Mr. Cleveland's order, Senators Pettigrew, Wilson, Turner, Rawlins and White speaking against it. Mr. Gray of Delaware defended the course of the president, pointing out that it was the result of an inquiry authorized by congress and conducted by the National Academy of Science.

Mr. Allison endeavored to have the amendment restricted so as to leave the question of revocation to the president, but he was defeated on a yea and nay vote of 14 to 32. Mr. Gorman made a point of order against the amendment, but this being submitted to the senate was defeated by a vote of 23 to 25. The amendment was then agreed to without division.

Another amendment agreed to provides for a continuance of the investigation of the condition of the fur seals in Bering sea.

The sundry civil bill was then passed. It carries an aggregate of $53,000,060. During the session Mr. Bacon of Georgia introduced a joint resolution deprecating war and announcing the policy of the government in favor of arbitration. The resolution was referred to the committee on foreign re-

House Again Supports Speaker.

The Republicans of the house followed up their recent indorsements of Speaker Reed's policy of postponing the appointment of committees by establishing the policy of biweekly meetings through the adoption of a resolution reported by the committee on rules providing that the house shall meet on Mondays and Thursdays until further action.

On this resolution the Democrats and Populists were solidly arrayed against the Republicans, but it was adopted by a vote of 101 to 83 after a partisan

The opposition, led by Mr. Bailey of Texas, was based on the ground that the programme would prevent consid eration of the bankruptcy bill, and Mr. Bailey attempted to substitute a resolution for taking up the Nelson bill on May 24, which the speaker ruled out of Democrats. The resolution adopted will relieve the Republicans from the necessity of keeping a quorum in town and cut off the possibility of daily sessions being forced by the Democrats.

For Annexation of Hawail.

Mr. King (Dem.) of Utah introduced a resolution for the annexation of Hawan. The resolution declares that citizens of the United States, some of whom reside upon the islands, have extensive financial interests there; that many of the citizens were formerly citizens of the United States and by the ties of affinity and contiguity are indissolubly bound-to this government, that the rights and liberties of the Hawanan people are guaranteed by its constitution, but that the perpetuity of the republic is not assured by reason of efforts to secure European control or Asiatic domination. The resolution declares that the territory may be recrived into the union whenever the government of Hawaii shall cede it to the United States, the president of the United States to receive it by proclamation and congress to make laws for its governn ent.

It is provided that the laws for the exclusion of Chinese shall apply to the islands, and no Chinese there be permitted to enter the United States. The appointment of a commission of three by the president to act with a like commission of the Hawaiian government ls provided for.

THESUNDRYCIVILACT AFTER A LOST ISLAND

The Schooner Louisa D. on a Voyage of Discovery.

LONG SEARCH NADE FOR THE PLACE.

It Is Formed of a Coral Reef and Is Said to Be Rich In Guano Deposits, Which Are Very

San Francisco, May 7 .- The schooner Louisa D. has cleared at the custom house for a cruise to New Baldayo island. Her trip promises to be a long and romantic one, and before she comes back her crew expects that the American flag will be floating over a little coral reef, close to the equator, that no man or nation has claimed. New Baldayo is the name given to the island, but so far the most accurate location that can be given for it is that it is in the North Pacific ocean. The island is said to be covered with an enormous and wonderful deposit of guano, and for nearly 50 years numerous vessels have started out in search of it, but they have always returned without being able to give its location.

It was first reported as being in existence by Lord Clipperton, an eccentric English navigator, naturalist and discoverer, and the man who gave his name to Clipperton island. He said in his report of his cruises that the island lay approximately in north latitude 18 and west longitude 37, but is described as low, and navigators say a vessel could sail within a dozen miles of it and pass by without seeing it.

An Out of the Way Place. That part of the ocean is out of the track of vessels plying between regular open ports, and should the island exist it could only be found by much diligent search for it. This is the object of the Louisa D. She is being dispatched by the Oceanic Phosphate company. Captain F. Errat will command her, and he says he will not come back until he finds the island. He was the mate of the schooner Moonlight that made an unsuccessful search for the island about a year ago. The schooner has on board a pientiful supply of provisions and a quantity of lumber with which to build a house on the island

Globe Safety Deposit's Receiver, Chicago, May 7.—A bill has been filed in the superior court for a receiver for the Globe Safety Deposit company, which was a part of the defunct Globe Savings bank. The complainants are npshire banks, which are holders of bonds of the Safety Deposit company. They are the Merrimac County Savings bank of Concord, the Loan and Trust Savings bank of the same city and the Nashua Savings bank and the Newhampshire Banking company of Nashua. The officers of the Globe Deposit company are identical with those of the Globe Savings bank. The company when it was organized issued $30,-000 worth of bonds, secured by a trust

Pathetic Incident of Paris Disaster. 77 Montreal, May 7.-The terrible tragedy in Paris has created the greatest of consternation here, where there are many people living who are at least distantly related to many of the victims. The Comte de Bouthillier de Shavigny, who lives at Richelieu, about 16 miles from here, was in The Star editerial rooms anxiously scanning cable dispatches as they came in sheet by sheet, and his emotion can be imagined when succeeding sheets informed of the death of his mother, then of that of his sister, then of that of his two aunts and finally several distant rela-

No Navat Cruise This Year.

Baltimore, May 7.-It has been settled that the interstate naval cruise between Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, suggested by the navy department, to take the place of the annual cruises of the naval battalions of each state, will not be held this year. Commander L E. Emerson has received communications from the Pennsylvania battallon which flatly oppose a cruise outside the waters of that state, and as Commander Emerson and the Maryland battalion are unanimous against leaving the Chesapeake the states will be obliged to hold sep-

Convicted Murderer Escapes.

Trenton, May 7.-Louis Pheil, the convicted murderer of Christian Zaiss of Vincland, escaped from the Trenton insane asylum and has thus far evaded capture. Pheil was sent to the asylum from the penitentiary. Some persons believe that he feigned insanity while in the prison so as to better hischances of escape. Before being sent to the penitentiary Phell threatened to kill his sister-in-law, who lives in Vineland and also some court officials. It is feared he will attempt to carry his threat into execution.

LOOKING FOR HEIRS.

A Large Fortune In Easton, Pa., to Be Divided.

Easton, Pa., May 7.-Three Chicago lawyers are in this city looking up people in this section who by a complicated condition of circumstances have fallen heirs to an estate in that city valued at $1,000,000.

Forty years ago a woman named Joanna Dickerman of Trenton was married to a man named Gottlieb Henninger. The couple moved to Chicago, where Henninger became blind and was turned out of doors by his wife. He returned to this city and later went to Philadelphia, where he died.

The woman took up with three different men at various times, and they lived together as man and wife. By the last man, Curtis Robinson, she had two children. Six years ago the woman died, and a year later Robinson died, leaving an estate worth about $1,000,-The lawyers have succeeded in finding two brothers of the first husband. They live in New Jersey, a few miles from here. They will claim part of the estate.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

Magowan's Rubber Company Said to Be In an Insolvent Condition.

Trenton, May 7. - Vice Chancellor Reed appointed Charles D. Case temporary receiver for the Eastern Rubber company, of which ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan is president. May 18 was fixed as the date for showing cause why the appointment should not be made permanent. The application for a re-ceiver was made by Senator William A. Skirm, one of the principal stockholders. In his application he declares that the company is insolvent; that it has $5,000 in notes past due and $66,000 of other indebtedness besides a bonded indebtedness of $189,000.

The assets consist principally of collectible accounts, amounting to about $10,000 and stock amounting to about the same figure. There is also real estate valued at $75,000, on which there is a mortgage for $110,000. Secretary Servis of the company vouches for the correctness of the figures.

HONDURAS PORT CLOSED.

The Authorities There Have Temporarily Shut Out Foreign Commerce.

Washington, May 7.-United States Minister MacGrane Cox, at Tegucigalpa, has reported to the department of state that on the 14th inst, the executive power of Honduras promulgated a decree which provides:

First.-That the port of Puerto Cortez and its tributaries shall be temporarily closed to foreign and coastwise commerce until the power of the legitimate authority is re-established in that section of the country.

Second.-Merchandise which may be entered at the custom house shall not be examined for withdrawai, and in case any should be so examined for withdrawal the importers shall remain indebted for the proper duties under the pain of being considered as defrauders of public revenue.

This action was taken by the Honduras government in consequence of the rebellion now in progress.

The Bear Starts on Another Cruise. Seattle, Wash., May 7 .- United States revenue cutter Bear has salled on her annual cruise to the Arctic. She will stop at Unga island and Ounolaska and then proceed to Point Barrow, returning to the sound next November. Aboard the Bear is the coast and geodetic survey party, which is to make a survey of Pribyloff islands, at the head of which is W. W. Duffield, son of the chief of the United States coast and geodetic survey service. With him are Fremont Morse, G. P. Putnam and George L. Putnam and six college boys, mostly from Chicago.

Child Killed by the Cars.

Rocky Hill, Conn., May 7.-Howard Francis Wilson, the 18-months-old son of Mrs. James Wilson of this place. was instantly killed on the railroad tracks in Rocky Hill. The child had strayed from the house dooryard, which is almost adjacent to the railroad tracks, and was playing in the sand between the rails. The head and one foot was cut off.

Overcome by Heat,

Chicago, May 7,- The first case of prostration from the heat occurred here. Charles Wilson, a milk wagon driver, unloading cans from his wagon, fell to the street unconscious. He was removed to a hospital. The weather bureau thermometer registered 80 degrees. On the streets in the husiness portion of the city it was 10 to 15 de-

Woman Commits Suicide.

Buffalo, May 7.—The woman cook on the barge Jeannette committed suicide by jumping into the take just outside the breakwater. The Jeannette was in tow of the steamer Weston. The woman was drowned before assistance could reach her. Her body has been recovered. Her name and address are not known at present.

Falsely Reported Dead.

Montreal, May 7.—In the list of those who perished in the Paris fire was the name of the Comtesse De Mun. Friends of the family in this city, after telegraphing condolences, were rejoiced to receive a message from Count De Mun reading, "News happily false. All saved."

To Tax Wood Pulp.

Toronto, May 7.-It is stated here on good authority that the Dominion government will place an export duty on pulp wood before June 1. The conservative government would have done so had it not been for the opposition of the lumbermen. The latter are now a unit in favor of the duty.

The Transvaal Read Amends Immigration Laws.

TO PLEASE THE NEIGHBORING STATES

It Was What Secretary Chamberlain Demanded, but the Boers Insist It Was Not Done to Placate Britons-Kruger's State Attorney Resigns. Pretoria, May 7.-The volksraad has held a protracted secret session to discuss the answer to be made to the dispatches of Mr. Chamberlain, British secretary of state for the colonies, which demanded a repeal of the Transvaal immigration law. The volksraad repealed the law, not because it was a breach of the London convention, but because it was distasteful to neighboring states.

Mr. Coster, the Transvaal state attorney, has tendered his resignation in disapproval of the appeal.

The position taken by Mr. Chamberlain on the subject of the Transvaal alien immigrants law, No. 30, of 1896, was stated in his dispatch to Lord Rosmead, the British high commissioner at the Cape, under date of Dec. 16, 1896. He said to Lord Rosmead:

"Inform the government of the South Africa Republic that her majesty's government cannot, in view of article 14 of the London convention, admit that the government of the South Africa. Republic has a right of expelling or restricting foreigners who are not shown to have failed to conform to the laws of the republic, and that her majesty's government reserves the right of objection to proceedings under the act, which may amount to a breach of the London convention.

"Inform the government of the South Africa Republic that her majesty's government is advised that the allen ummigrants law infringes article 14 of of the London convention, inasmuch by it new and burdensome conditions, in most cases probably impossible to fulali, are imposed on persons who under the convention are at full liberty to enter and reside in the South Africa Republic on condition of conforming to its laws.

"You will state that her majesty's government appreciates the reported assurances of President Kruger that the government of the South Africa Republic has no intention of departing from the terms of the London convention and therefore feels confident that it will not attempt to enforce the law."

In a letter to Lord Rosmead, explaining the reasons for the dispatch. Mt. Chamberlain said the British government could not accept the alien immigrants law as an ordinary police law within the terms of article 14 of the London convention, which declares. that all persons other than natives conforming themselves to the laws of the South Africa Republic shall have full liberty to enter, travel or reside in any part of the republic. The alien immigrants law provided that such persons should not be at liberty to enter or reside in the republic unless they could show affirmatively that they had the means or ability to support themselves. Mr. Chamberlain argued that as the only condition imposed by the convention is that they should conform to the laws of the republic the new law would be ultra vires and moreover would impose a "further condition of a burdensome nature which it might be difficult for many of the poorer though perfectly respectable immigrants to

Mr. Coster's Resignation.

London.- May-7.-A-dispatch to The Times from Cape Town says that Mr. Coster, the Transvaal state attorney, resigned because of the rejection by the volksraad of his too bellicose draft of the proposed reply to Mr. Chamberlain's dispatch asking Loid Rosmead to inform the government of the South Africa Republic that the British government felt confident that there would be no attempt to enforce the alien immigrants law in the Transvaal.

SENATORIAL REVENGES.

The Fam us Quirrel of Dan Voor hees and lugalls.

The Two Senators Were Bitter Personnt Enemies-The Indiana Man Came Out Abend at the Close of the Game.

The depth of ex-Senator Voorhees reealls the tilt between hun and ex-Schator Tegalls. Both men, says the Kaners City Journal, will be remembered in history more vividly by reason of this incident than from anything else. The then Senator Ingalis was "submitting a few remarks" in compliance with an announcement made some days before. While he was speaking on the rice problem and things in general, ruith Vondees is a cd in the Camer from the esci of the Indones service had this had a set-

When Senator Voorne

made inquiry about what the been said by the speaker. He could find nothing at which he could take offense, and hence took his seat. Very soon lingalls referred to sone war reminiscences, and Voorbees was on his feet to "ask a question." This gave the opening in which Ingalis simply recalled the zig-zag Voorhees' record in the war, going over the history of secret war parties, of which the enemies of Voorhees insisted he was a member. While referring to this Voorhees remarked in a low tone that he would not stand it. So saying, in an emphatic way, he started across to the republican side, with the evident purpose of doing physical violence to Ingells. As he attempted to pass Senator Gray, of Delaware, that senator half rose and grabbed Voorhees, and in using violent persuasion, forced Voorhees back to

About this time Senator Blackburn arose and was about to speak when Ingalis stopped and reached in his desk and withdrew some p per wrapped up with a red string. He commenced to untie the same, but Blackburn did not persist in his interruption. lagalls stopped unfolding the papers and looked over to Blackburn. After a quiet look full of meaning, Blackburn took his seat and Ingalls proceeded with his speech. Thus it happened that Ingalis-Middletown | did not get a chance to unravel Blackrecord and give him a duplicate Voorhees treatment.

> After this meident, Voorhees and Ingalls never spoke. They were on a committee together, but somehow they never met in the committee room, and neither seemed to evade committee duties. It was supposed that some one of the senators made it his business to see to it that neither would meet.

But revenge sweet came to Voorhees. Two years later Ingalls was defeated and Voorhees was elected. The certificate of election reached Mr. Voorhees a month before the adjournment of the Fifty-first congress. It was turned over to Senator Turple, of Indiana, to present to the senate, with "instructions." The certificate was held awaiting the arrival of Senator Peffer's certificate. One morning Serutor Plumb arose and presented the credentials of Senator Peiler, "the newly elected senator from Kansas". The rext senator to gain the eye of the vice president was Schafor Turple, who presented the credentials of Senator Voorbees, being "ruclected."

There was a senutorial smile. By arrangement Senator Ingalls was "out" when Peffer's credentials were presented, and by arrangement Turpie played his card when the oshcial announcement of Ingalls' defeat was made. S nator Voorhees was in the chamber at the time and soon after a rumber of serutors called at his desk and extended congratulations.

Sulator Voorbees always looked upon this as sweet revenge. Senator Ingalls expected reverge last winter, and had he been elected he could have pad Senator Paker present his certificate immethately after Mr. Fairchild's certifiente had been presented, which was the official announcement of the defeat of Mr. Voorbees. But this sweet revenge for Ingalls did not come. Sengtor Voorhees was not forced to take the dose he had administered to Senator Ingalls.

BARGAIN--The Word and Its Uses.

The word "Bargain" is trite. So is every word and every subject that must be faced constantly; it has no good synonym. It is the best word in the language to describe merchandise that is offered below normal value.

No other Orange county business ever collected such quantities of as many sorts of superior goods at prices so curiously low.

We MUST tell you about them, therefore we MUST say "Bargains." Until you give us a better word it shall be "Bargains, Bargains," otherwise you won't know. Isn't that clear?

Gladness Comes

Alitha better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms o. sickness are not due to any actual disuse, but simply to a constipated condion of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only .c. .edy with millions of families, and is e crywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal e'emliness without debilitating the regard on which it acts. It is therefore att important, in order to get its beneheial effects, to note when you purenase, that you have the genuine arti ele, which is manufactured by the Califormia Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable diviguests. If in the enjoy ent of good health, and the system is egular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the weil-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highes and is most largely a red rivery peneral satisfaction.

ARBOR DAY IN THE CITY SSCHOOL

Interesting and Appropriate Exercises Held at all the Schools-Many Children Take Part-The Programmes at the Several Schools.

Arbor Day was observed by the schools of this city, this afternoon, and interestng and appropriate exercises, were held at all the schools.

The attempts that have been made in revious years at practical arboriculture. have not resulted very satisfactorily, for only a very small proportion of the trees planted have survived, and the effect has been to discourage pupils and teachers from jurther ventures in the line of treeplanting, and to-day's observance has therefore been sentimental rather than

-Miss Emily Dewitt who has been spending the winter in Liberty, has returned home, and has soldher place to M. D. Pierce. It has been her home from childhood, and her many friends will miss her very much, as we learn she expects to make Middletown her future home.

-Minnie Johnson improves very slowv. She is sick at her aunt's, Miss M. Johnson's, at this place. -Mrs. Ezra Prince is very much better.

-Mrs. Isnac Foster is visiting friends in Brocklyn for a few days. -Dell Case is improving the looks of his hotel very much with paint and paper. N. J. Newkirk and C. Armstrong are doing the work. -As the trout season has opened, we see a number of fishermen, but few trout.

The fish know it is wrong to bite on Sun--It will soon be time for the assessor to come around. He need not ask people if they keep a dog, but how many, and he will find them numerous. -Mrs. J. A. Munson has gone to the Large Meteor Presented to Yale.

New Haven, May 7.-A valuable addition to Peabody museum of Yale has been made by the class of '57. It is a meteoric stone and weighs 65 pounds. It was found on April 10, 1894, by H. T. Martin, in Smoky Hill river, Gove county, Kan., 15 miles from Jerome. Mr. Martin was engaged in hunting fossils at the time. Exhaustive chemical and microscopic examinations will be made of the stone soon. This is twice the size of the hitherto largest meteor at Yale. The British museum has only two stones that are as large.

chief is lost sight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked after. Nervous dyspepties often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates, and is irregular; in others the kidneys are affected; n others the bowels are constipated. with headaches: still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with accumulation of gas, sour risings and

It is safe to say that five Arbor Day trees are sacrificed to every one that makes even a sickly growth. What may be called the sentimental observance of Arbor Day may, perhaps, serve some useful purpose, but it should be a pplemented by practical instruction in tree planting at the hands of some one who has some knowledge of the art. Half-an-hour spent in seeing a tree properly planted by a man who knows how is worth all the pretty songs and fol-derol verses about oaks and elms and maples and forests that can be crowded into an afternoon's programme,

RARE EMBROIDERY.

Exquisite Lace Made of the Fiber of the Aloe.

Perhaps the most accomplished designer and needlewoman in the world is Mme. St. George, who has charge of the classes in the government art school of embroidery at Vienna, says an exthange. This institution is the glory of the Austrian capital. The entire course of instruction, which is free, lasts five years, but many pupils leave after two or three years, especially ladies who do not intend to make art work a profession and are satisfied with knowing the rudiments of either lace work or art embroidery, for every year has its special course. Every year's course has its special room and instructress and the pupils cannot go from one to the other until the year expires. The pupils of the last year's course were busily mending a magnificent canopy, the work of Empress Marie Theresa. An idea may be formed of the magnitude of the task when it is said that ten girls under Mme. St. George's superintendence had been working at it for ten years already, and she expected it would take two years more to complete it. Every kind of embroidery, including Persian, Indian, Japanese, Turkish, etc., is done here, and the visitor is astonished to see some beautiful samples of the "manduty." or spider's web, made by the Guarini women of Paraguay and rarely seen in Europe. This lace is made of the fiber of the aloe and is so fine that it is made inside of the huts, with the door shut, so that not the least breath of wind can touch it.

IT WAS A COLD DAY.

Had to Heat the Ice to Get Water-A Modern Ananius,

"ll-r-r-r-r" said the man from Potato Creek, erowding up to the stove, according to the Indianapolis Journal. "Party cold."

"Yas," said the grocer, "it is purty frosty fer the time of year. I see it went 25 below in Helena, which I think it a good thing that the town has them last two syllables in its name, or it would be about as hard to believe as some of them yarns of old Ananias over

The man with the ginger beard looked up and said: "Who you callin' old Anamas? Any of ye ever ketch me in a lie?" "No," said the grocer, "I guess you never was ketched in a lie yit. Anyone that kin lie as fast ez you kin ain't liable to git ketched."

"But, speaking of cold weather," said the man with the ginger beard, "I guess it was about as cold in Winnipeg in the fall of '65 as I ever see it, er anybody

"How cold was it?" asked the man from Potato Creek.

"Wal, ez fur ez degrees below zero goes, I can't tell you nothin' about that," said the man with the ginger beard, "fer they wuzn't no thermometers long enough fer to measure it, but I do know that when we wanted to git water to drink the ice was froze so hard that we had to heat it red hot 'afore it would begin to melt.'

HIS LEG AMPUTATED.

The Injuries of James Milligan, Who Was Kicked by Br. Connor's Horse, More Serious Than at First Supposed

When the physicians examined the eg of James Milligan, who was injured by the kick of a horse, yesterday afternoon, in Dr. Connor's stable, it was found that the bone was badly shattered.

The ambulance was called and he was taken to Thrall Hospital where a more thorough examination was made, in the hope of saving the leg. but it was discovered that the flesh and arteries had been lacerated and bruised so badly that amoutation was necessary.

The leg was taken off just below the knee by Dr. Connor, assisted by Drs Douglas, Pillsbury, Purdy and Redfield. Mr. Milligan rested comfortably during the night and is doing well. to-day. It is not believed that any bones were broken in the shoulder, but it is badly bruised and very painful.

Mr. Milligan will be able to wear ar artificial leg but it is doubtful if he will have the use of the knee joint.

the Hearingon the Middletown Boundary Bill.

Governor Black gave a hearing, yesterday, on the Middletown boundary bill The hearing was limited to half an hour. The governor listened with close attention to the arguments and was very courteous to his visitors.

Judge Beattie, counselfor Wawayanda was present, but made no argument. Judge Cody, of Hudson, doing the talk ing for him. W. B. Rovce, counsel for Wallkill, made the argument for Wallkill and City Attorney Wigginsandez-Mayo: Iseman for the city.

The line of argument was practically the same as that made before the Committees on Cities.

The governor asked a few questions as to the territory to be annexed and the number of persons who would be affected. but there was nothing in his words or manner that would give any idea as to what his action on the bill will be.

DR. NELSON BADLY HURT.

The Injuries Inflicted by Dr. Connor's Victous Horse Wore Serious Than at First supposed.

Dr. W. J. Nelson, who went to the res cue of James L. Milligan, yesterday, and was himself kicked by the vicious horse that had injured Mr. Milligan, was injured much worse than at first supposed. One rib on the left side was broken and this injury would have been much worse but for a large pocketbook and memorandum, which he carried just over the spot where the horse's foot struck. The book very plainly shows the print of the horse's foot, the calk tearing away a portion of the leather.

In addition to this, the doctor's left ankle is badly sprained and when he is able to be about he will be compelled to use a crutch for some time. His back is hadly bruised and shows the print of the horse's foot. In addition to the above injuries, the doctor was kicked in three other places,on the right shin, the left wrist and the left cheek. Dr. Nelson was out on crutches, this afternoon.

A "DYING" TRAMP'S LAST HOPE Wanted to Reach Cleveland to be Buried by His Lost Arm,

Charles Hanlon, a one armed tramp, was brought before the Recorder, this morning, charged with intoxication. He pleaded guilty and asked to be allowed to make a statement.

When permission had been granted the fellow began to shiver and shake and his voice trembled with emotion. He was dying, he said, and his only hope on earth was to reach Cleveland, where his arm was buried. The thought of going to jail, perhaps to the there and be buried away from his good right hand, was too much for him. He was sure it would kill him to lock him up, but was confident of his ability to reach theveland in time to be buried beside his hand if he could only have the opportunity.

The Recorder gave him five minutes to get out of town and when last seen he was on a dead run for the Summit.

BIKE AND WAGON COLLIDE.

No Damage to the Wagon, But the Machine Was Wrecked.

Last night, as Augus Terwilliger was riding his whist between the rails of the electric road, he lost control of his wheel, which turned suddenly to one side and ron into a wagon driven by a Mr. Mapes, near the curb. In an instant wheel and man were badly mixed up in the wagon wheels, and but for the very prompt action of Mr. Mapes in bringing his horse to a standstill, Mr. Terwilliger might have been killed or badly hurt. As it was he was not hurt, but his wheel was wrecked.

A HANDSOME STORE.

Complete Transformation at C. N. Predmore & Son's Grocery Establishment.

C. N. Predmore & Son, who have temporarily occupied the store in the Casino building while their own store, corner of James and King streets, was undergoing repairs, will reopen at the old stand, tomorrow.

Mr. Predmore's customers will find that a great transformation has taken place during the past few weeks. All or the old fixtures, including counters and shelving, have been removed. The walls have been papered, the woodwork painted, and the new fixtures, including counters and shelving, are of ash, and of the very latest design.

On one side of the store is something new in Middletown grocery stores-a roll front bin counter, and in the rear part is a marble-top butter counter, and in rear of it a very handsome butter refrigerator. An ash cash desk and bookkeeper's desk complete the fixtures. The woodwork is polished. The finishing was all done by C. V. Predmore, and he may well be proud of his work.

THE ENGINEER'S RIVAL.

and the second of the second second in the second second in the second s

BY ALFRED B. COOPER.

"Yes, sir. That old shuntin' engine that's putlin' an' snortin', like a brokenwinded old horse, could tell a tale, if it wasn't so short o' breath. That's the very eighte old John Wright used to fine when I was his stoker. Let me see -- I've been drivin' three year--ave, it'll be ten year come next September. He was a fine figure of a man, was John. He stoud six foot one and a half in his stockin's, an' was broad in the shoulders, too. In his greasy peaked cap, an oily-Lue jacket, he looked a glant. He was a oneer 'un. I used to tell h'in he needed a wife to look after him. Ha! Ha! He always made his tea wi' water out o' th' engine boiler, an' when I laughed at him, be'd slop me on the back, an' say: What's good for the horse is good for the rider, Harry.' He was a rare old

"Was he an old man?" "Oh, no: he'd be forty-odd, I suppose, but I was a young man of 20, an' he Remed old. like, to me. As I've said, he was a bachelor, an', as far as i knew, likely to remain one. There wasn't much of the ladies' man about John but still waters run deep, they say, an' John Wright had his little secret.

"About three mile out o' town, I used to notice that he whistled three times. and always looked across a couple o' fields, a bit further on, as if he were lookin' for somethin'. I asked him once or twice what it was, but he edged me off, an' changed the subject, so I didn't press it. But I kept my eyes open.

"It was early winter when I first went on to stoke for John, an', of course, bein' a goods train, it was generally gettin' on for eight o'clock at night when we eassed this particlar spot, bound for Parnham, 50 mile away. It's 'up bank.' as I daresay you know, from here to .orgbridge, eight mile up the line, an we never got any great speed on until we'd passed that length, especially when we'd a heavy freight. But all I could make out for some months was the dim outline of a cottage, that had an 'upstairs' window with a red blind. The cottage lay a couple of fields away. What made me notice the red blind was that, as we passed, the window was always suddenly lighted up.

"Aye, an' so was John Wright's face soon as ever he saw it. Such a smile!an' he had a kind face, had old Johnan' then he'd seem lost a bit, as if he were thinkin' o' somethin' as was good to think about.

"I couldn't make it out, for you see I looked on John as a musty, crusty old bachelor, for all he were such a good sort. But the light nights let the secret out. It were no use of his keepin' his tongue tied then: for there, in th' little front garden, across them two little fields, was a pink frock, an' a sun-bonnet, an' a little hand flutterin' a bit of a hankychief as we passed—every night. as true as the clock.

"I chaffed John rarely about it, first time I saw it, an' he blushed-he did, indeed, sir! Though his face was grimy on the top, and copper color under that, I'll swear he blushed. But he looked pleased an' proud, for, by that time, we'd grown such thick friends, that I'm sure he didn't mind me knowin'.

"Then, bit by bit, it all came out, John and her father, who used to be pointsman at Chubb Junction, half a mile farther up the line than the cottage, had been hads together. John had gone up for a 'camp' every Sunday for many a year. He'd known Mary Mathers since she was born, an' when she was a little lass be'd nursed her on his knee, an' told her he'd wait for her. I dare say he meant it in fun at the time but, as she grew up, he knew he liked to be where she was better than anywhere else in the world. That's how he put it sir. Then Tom Mathers, her father, fel III, an' I learnt afterwards, an' I gussed even then, that John Wright made his wages keep four instead of one. Mary' father never worked again. He was on his back for 18 months, an' then he died

"An' then, you may be sure, John was a father to the fatherless, an' a husband to the widow—as far as lookin' after 'em went, at any rate-only he wanted to be a husband to the daughter, Mary Of course, I learnt this bit by bit, an" can't help fillin' in things as come to uv cars years after, for John was never he man to blow his own trumpet. Ho tal. He was well content wit the steamwhistle-especially when passin' Roilway cottage. Poor John! "Well, to cut a long story short, Mary semed to make no objection. Whi should she? She'd never met anyhode vice liked better, an' a finer fellow than John Wright never walked! He got he to promise to light the lamp in the room a? the red blind, on dark nights, as he assed on his engine, an' to give him a viave of her hand on Ught nights, for he and it was somthin' to be goin' on with, ker be'd a touch o' sent ment in him. bad John, aye, he had that!

"One Seturday night he says: Harry. you'd better walk o'er wi' me to-mor-

" 'Walk o'er wl' you? I says; 'where?" "'Why, to Mrs. Mathers', to be sure Ud like you to know my Macy, An'then you can tell me what you think of my sweetheart.' An' as he said it that sweet fer-off look came in his face, an' I knew he loved that lass as few lasses are "Well, I went; on' I wished at the time I'd stayed away. It was love at first sight wi' me, an' I felt I should never,never be the same again. God forg" me! but after that Surday I felt at times I hated John Wright. When she stood at the stile, at the crossing midway between the cottage an' the signalbox-as she did every evenin' from the very day I went wi' John-an' waved her hand to him, bashful-like, an' he threw her a clumsy kiss. I felt I could ha' knocked him off the engine.

"I fought again' it—an', you must understand, I didn't feel that way all the time, for we were good friends, an' no one would have seen a difference: but when he talked of her, in his quiet Even healthy women are nervous, irritable, cross and blue when there is any slight derang-mort of the organs distinctively feminine. The whole body seems to be influenced by it. The nerves are on edge. Temper and tears come without apparent cause. These things show the importance of womanly health. These things show that there is great, urgent, constant need of such a remedy as Dr. Pierce's Fa-vorite Prescription. This great medicine works directly on but one set of organs in a woman's body. It soothes any indamma-ion that may be present. It purifies and invigorates. It cures when doctors have failed, and it does away with any necessity of distasteful examinations and local treatment, which are so frequently insisted upon by physiciaus. "Then he pressed me to go again an' mend a Sunday at the cottage. I put him off, but he wouldn't take 'no' for an enswer. So, whether for fear of hurtin' his feelin's, or because I couldn't keep away, I can't say, but I ylelded, an'. will get you a sample of Dr. Deane's an' each time I got deeper an' deoper went. After that I went several times, Dyspepsia Pills, the medicine that has in love with John's sweetheart, age, an' what seemed worse, I couldn't help knowin' that Mary was troubled the same way. But I will say this, I never tried to make Mary love me, an' never a word of love passed between us, but, sometimes, I thought I saw trouble in John's eyes, an' then I'd vow to myself. to go no more.

"Often enough I'd ba on th' front o' th' engine, or on th' tender, when we' passed the stile that summer, an' do as I would, I couldn't help but look to catch her eye. An' I never missed, though she waved her hand to old John. "One evenin', in the early autumn of that year, we were goin' at as good a speed as the incline would let us, an' just gettin' towards the cottage. John, had sent meround to be' front o' th'en- ! Haven, W. Va., writes: "I suffered with exgine with my oil-can, an' I couldn't help lookin' ahead to see if Mary was standin' waitin' at the stile. Yes, she was there as usual, right in front of us, for the line curved to the right just at the stile, an' was hidden from view behind a little wood. I could see her print dress, an' the same white linen bonnet shell wore when I first saw her in the garden on that spring evenin'. Oh, how my heart went out to her, an' how that old hvicked feelin' towards John rusbed through me, an' made my nevres tingle from head to foot.

"Mary had her back towards us-a very unusual thing-an' I remember, wonderin' why. Then the usual three whistles sounded, short an' sharp. She turned instantly, an' threw up ther hands like one demented. We went thunderin' down to the crossin' where she stood, an' I saw her eyes starin' at ne, like coals of fire set in a face as white as chalk. She fascinated me.

"Just then old John shut off steam. an' I heard him doin' a thing he'd never done afore-reversin' the engine! All of a sudden Mary seemed to wake up. an' find a horrible dream true, for I heard, above the roar of the train, the grandin' of the rails, and the shrick of the brakes, that had been jammed hard down-I heard one piercing scream. It was a word-my name-'Harry!'

"Of course all this happened in a breathless second or two. Half a lifetime is sometimes squeezed into haif a minute, sir. I took my eyes from Mary's face as we passed her, standin' as if turned to stone, an' I looked ahead. Heavens! what a sight! Bearin' down on us at a great rate of speed was an engine an' tender-a rupaway! It was comin' down the bank, tender first, an' we were timed to n ees at the junction. I saw it all in a flash. The train was jumpin' ilke a buckin' horse, an', with my body all of a tremble. I'd as much as I could do to get back to the foot plate.

"There stood John Wright, of course. I seemed to see him, and naught else. He'd done all man could do, an' was standin' stock-still, with one hand on the lever. But it wasn't his stillness that made the tears start to my eyes. It was the look on his face. It made me nearly forget the doom to which we were rushin'. I can't describe it. It was the look of a man who has nothing left to live for-whose hope had been suddenly wiped clean out forever.

"The instant he saw me his face changed. He sprang towards me, an', seizin' me by the arm with a grip of steel, spoke in a hourse whisper, that could be heard above everything: 'Jump off, my lad-you've time-you can do it. Jump off!-for her sakeshe loves thee—for her sake. Harry for heaven's sake!'

"I said: "Nay, John." "'Quick,' be says. 'Harry! Harry! Jump for your Mary's sake!

"I swung one leg off the engine-life was dear-an' prepared for a spring into the grass. Then a great surging love for this man came over me, an' I turned sudden-like, au' took him by the hand, an' I says: Mohn, we'll stick together, an' die together-lif it's God's will - for her sake." An' he just gave me that sweet look, an' stepped in front of me, as if to put his great frame betwixt me an' death, an' there came a crash as if heaven an' earth had mer, an' I seemed to roll over an' over, an' then it felt as if the whole earth had risen up an' smitten me-an' I knew no

"I woke from a troubled dream that seemed to have lasted a lifetime, an opened my eyes, half conscious, an' not sure but that I was still dreamin'. Then I slipped off again, an' I remember thinkin' that the sweet eyes that mine Lad seemed to meet, were the eyes of my guardian angel. An' they were, sir-for, when I opened my eyes again, all the past came back to me with the tearful face of Mary Mathers.

"I put my hand out on the counterpane, an' she put hers gently on top of it. An', believe me, sir, that's the only way I ever 'popped the question.' We'd been through foo much together to need much fuss.

"'Where is he?' I framed my lips to say. I don't know whether she heard, but she understood, for she put her hand into her bosom and drew out a black-edged eard, an' held it before my eyes, whilst her own filled again with fears. I read: 'In loving memory of John Wright, who was killed at the post of duty."

"And you've been happy in your married life?" "Happy! Happy isn't the word for it, sir. Ours is one of the matches made in Heaven."-Tit-Bits.

DOES YOUR WATCH KEEP GOOD TIME?

No Reason Why Any Watch Should Not Do It!

A watch is a most denente piece of machinery. Ordinary attention and care will insturally lengthen the life of a watch. If your watch loses or gains time, it must be correctly regulated. If your watch needs cleaning or repairing, it should be watch needs cleaning or repairing. It should be done by a competent workman. Experience and skill make a workman competent. I warrant competent treatment for the most costly or the most humble time piece. Bring it here. Services prompt, charges moderate.

WISE WOMEN.

Those Who Heed the First Symptoms of Nervous Derangement.

Special from Mrs. Pinkham. A dull, aching pain at the lower part of the back and a sensation of little rills of heat, or chills running down the spine, are symptoms of general womb derangement. If these symptoms are not accompanied by leucorrhosa, they are precursors of that weakness. It is worse 🦠 than folly to neglect these symptoms. Any woman of common sense will take steps to cure herself. She will realize that her generative system is in need of help, and that a good restorative medicine is a positive necessity. It must be a medicine with specific virtues. As a friend, a woman friend, let me advise the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If your case has progressed so that a troublesome discharge is already established, do not delay, take the Vegetable Compound at once, so as to tone up your whole nervous system; you can get it at any reliable drug store. You ought also to use a local application, or else the corrosive discharge will set up an inflammation and hardening of the parts. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is put up in packets at 25 cents each. To relieve this painful condition this Sanative Wash is worth its weight in gold.

MRS.GEORGE W. SHEPARD, Watervliet. N. Y., says: "I am glad to state that I am cured from the worst form of female weakness. I was troubled very much with leucorrhoea, bearing-down pains and backache. Before using Mrs. Pinkham's Remedies it seemed that I had no strength at all. I was in pain all over. I began to feel better after taking the first dose of Vegetable Compound. I have used five bottles, and I feel like a new woman. I know if other suffering women would only try it, it would help them."

A DOG THAT CAN TEST METALS.

Silver Tip Knows Good Money from Bad, Every Time.

No bank teller in lowa has a truer instinct for real, genuine cart-wheel silver dollars than has a Rock Rapids dog called Silver Tip, says the Chicago Times-Herald. Silver Tip is tan-colored and weighs about ten pounds. All his two years of life he has been the property of Landlord Barber, of the Lyon hotel, at Rock Rapids, but it is only within the last year that his power of immediate insight into the nature of metals has become known to his owner.

The way Tip manifests his powers, as his owner puts it, is as follows: If one takes a pile of coins the size of an American dollar-say a trade dollar a Mexican dollar, a five-franc piece and some counterfeit dollars-and puts one genuine dollar piece in the center of the pile, Tip will rummage around among them for an instant and then snatch the good coin and proceed to take care of it in approved dog fashion to an accompaniment of growls and bites. Or if one rolls a coin along the floor Tip can tell every time whether it is good stuff to be chased. Tip never makes a mistake, and there isn't a bit of doubt about his powers. He has been tested by Chicago business men and by committees of lowa scientists. He gets no human help in his work. The good coin is not marked in any peculiar way for his benefit, per is it seented. Anyone can use his own coin in the experiment. Nor does Tip's powers depend on signs from his master. The latter leaves the room without detracting from the dog's ability in the least.

Mr. Barber has refused all offers for the purchase of Tip.

MILLIONS IN PAINTING.

The Hertford-Wallace Collection In Worth $7,590,000.

The celebrated Hertford-Wallace collection of pictures bequeathed to the British nation by Lady Wallace is estimated to be worth $7,500,000. Her magnamimity, says the Boston Transcript, is all the more noteworthy because she was struck off the queen's visiting list

Sir Richard Wallace died on July 20, 1890, leaving behind him the most famous art collection of any Englishman. The whole of Sir Richard's great wealth. and the peculess collection of pictures Awhich includes 19 examples of Meissonier and 15 of Greuze) were given to his wife for her own free disposition. Prior to his death, however, he expressed his wishes to his wife that after her death his superb collection of works of art should go to England's national gallery and that his wish in this respect should be carried out she arranged several

The magnificent Hertford conection comprised when it passed into Sir Richard Wallace's hands a splendid assort ment of paintings, porcelains, bronzes, decorative furniture, jewelry and other works of art. His own purchases during the past 30 years included many of the choicest examples of old Japanese art, which he was one of the first to bring to the attention of European connoisseurs; of the masters of the Italian renaissance, notably the productions in silver of Benvenuto Cellini and his immediate followers and of modern French painters.
